ABSTRACT:

Parents should not always intervene in every affair of children. Children play. They quarrel. They laugh. Also the innocent naughty souls love as well. Let them enjoy their echoing green childhood. Let them decide their dispute of their own. This decision builds up their personality on a solid ground that paves the way for future success.

INTRODUCTION

Creative writing is based more on manifestation rather than on expression. It does not inform rather it reveals, so it bears no reference. The best creative writing is critical, and the best critical writing is creative. The present article is the outcome of creative writing meant for lay readers. As such free style is the methodology adopted so that the pleasure of reading can be enjoyed by the readers in general. As you know well that, Francis Bacon (1561-1626), the immortal writer, wrote many essays, and notably "Of Love", "Of Friendship", "Of Ambition", "Of Studies", etc. The myriad-minded genius rightly pointed out that all the words of the dictionary can be the themes of essays one can write. But little has been done, in this regard since his death, in order to finish his unfinished monumental works. In fact Bacon's way of presentation and his unique style kindled imagination and inspired me to write essays, in the light of creative writing, thus to get relief through Catharsis.

ARTICLE

Intervention means to become involved in a situation, especially so as to prevent something happening or to try to help somebody. It is to involve in a dispute or quarrel. It is to interfere between two people who are quarrelling. It is to separate the disputants. It is to happen in such a way as to delay or prevent something from being done. It is to happen so as to interrupt. Thus intervention is to come, be, or lie between, as in action to avoid imminent danger or awkward situation.

Further, intervention is a system of removing surplus produce from the market and storing it until prices rise.

Intervention price is the market price at which intervention occurs. Interventionist is a person who favours intervention. Intervenor is a mediator in ecclesiastical controversies.

Intervention is one kind of mediation. The mediator must be a knowledgeable person. He must have perseverance. The disputed parties either have lack in intelligence or lack in bearing capacity or quarrelsome in nature or all together. The mediator must not be biased in nature. If he is not a man of strong personality he should not intervene. His argument must have logic. His pleasing personality will act as magic. This involvement may either settle the dispute or delay the dispute or may complicate the situation even more and be violent due to the presence of third party.

Sometimes the contesting candidates, either being tired or being driven by good sense, settle the dispute amicably without any intervention. Then the third party becomes villain to both. As such intervention is a risky game. This drama is often seen between two neighbours. They kiss. They kick. Thus too much familiarity brings contempt. Also too much of anything is bad. So, intelligent people seldom interfere. A peace-loving person avoids intervention.

Interventionism is the government policy or practice of intervening in the economic activities of one's own country or in the domestic affairs of another country. Interventionist policy of a country, in case of foreign affairs, is good when the nation helps another distressed nation. Otherwise, it is ill-famed as the attack on sovereignty of another nation. In case of neighbouring countries intervention is alias and akin to imperialism. Voluntary help is not good always. A diplomat seldom does anything voluntarily unless his interest is fulfilled.

Intervention is omnipresent with its immense power. It is to intercede. It is to occur or be between two things. It is to occur between other events or periods. It is to take place between two events, points of time, etc. It is to come or be in between as something unnecessary or irrelevant. It is to come between as an influencing force. It is to come between so as to modify, settle, prevent or hinder some action, argument, the result or course of events, etc. It is to interfere, especially, with force or a threat of force. It is the intervention in the domestic policies of smaller nations. As per law it is to come in as a third party to a suit, to protect one's own interests. It is to interpose in an action to which one was not an original party.

Man faces intervention infinite times from cradle to coffin whether he wants it or not it matters little. Also man intervenes. He has to intervene. He is bound to intervene. Thus man willy-nilly intervenes many times during his entire tenure of life. In this regard he is quite helpless.

Intervention takes place in different styles, manners, forms and features. Also it varies person to person in different degrees and dimensions as well. Further place and time play a vital role for its operation.

In a democratic set up when rioting breaks out, the police are obliged to intervene. A person intervenes on behalf of someone to try and get the decision changed. If nothing interesting intervenes the situation becomes dull and monotonous. During rainy season picnic is enjoyable if thunderstorm does not intervene. A sincere person keeps promise if nothing intervenes. The farmers finish harvesting before a storm intervenes. The sincere workers assure the manager to complete the work by the weekend if nothing intervenes. A sensitive person intervenes in the quarrel between the two disputants lest no mishap happens. A lot of things may happen during the intervening years.

A call for government intervention to save the shipbuilding industry is a normal event. In a dictator regime armed and military intervention is a quite common. Repeated intervention by central banks in the currency markets is detrimental for the financial security of any nation.

Some people intervene for good purpose, some other for bad purpose. Some opportunists avail the chance to fish in troubled waters to serve and satisfy self interest. Some persons get involved for immediate gain. They know chance comes once. Some other interferes for permanent interest. Some fellows thinking future gain intervene. Some people intervene to take revenge of enmity. A Good Samaritan intervenes to save the ailing humanity.

Lovers are guided by emotion. They are mad for each other. For, they are made for each other. Emotion has no base thereby no brake at all. As such it breaks all barriers and crosses all boundaries. As a result the relation many times does not mature. They commit suicide, since they do not know that life has its sweet side too. Marriage is a long journey. Belief is its only fuel. Tolerance mobilizes the relation. Here intervention of mediator is of great importance. A good mediator can solve the problem. His timely intervention can save the young souls from utter and untimely ruin.

Parents should not always intervene in every affair of children. Children play. They quarrel. They laugh. Also the innocent naughty souls love as well. Let them enjoy their echoing green childhood. Let them decide their dispute of their own. This decision builds up their personality on a solid ground that paves the way for future success.

CONCLUSION

Thus it is good to intervene. It is better not to intervene. It is best to self-settle the dispute amicably by the disputants involved for permanent settlement.
