

OF LEADERSHIP

ABSTRACT

A happy person cannot be a leader. Unhappy family life paves the way to be a successful leader. History is its witness. A happy man is self-centered. He thinks and does only for his family. He is like a frog of the well. On the other hand an unhappy person cannot, does not and even is not allowed to do any welfare for his own family. His family farewells him for no cause. Then the whole world is his family. Thus circumstance compels a leader to become a patriot. This is the equation of sincerity. This is the mystery of faithfulness.

KEYWORDS: Leader, Personality, Expert, Talent.

INTRODUCTION

Creative writing is based more on manifestation rather than on expression. It does not inform rather it reveals, so it bears no reference. The best creative writing is critical, and the best critical writing is creative. The present article is the outcome of creative writing meant for lay readers. As such free style is the methodology adopted so that the pleasure of reading can be enjoyed by the common people. As you know well that Francis Bacon (1561-1626), the immortal writer, wrote many essays, and notably "Of Love", "Of Friendship", "Of Ambition", "Of Studies", etc. The myriad-minded genius rightly pointed out that all the words of the dictionary can be the themes of essays one can write. But little has been done, in this regard since his death, in order to finish his unfinished monumental works. In fact Bacon's way of presentation and his unique style kindled imagination and inspired me to write essays, in the light of creative writing, thus to get relief through Catharsis.

ARTICLE

Leader is born, cannot be made. Leadership is a personality trait. This trait is acquired by birth. Leader does not do any different thing, rather he does it differently. Leader is an expert. Expertise can be acquired through training. But a true or perfect leader gets expertise by birth. Others have to acquire it. It is quite time consuming factor. Thus a leader is ahead by birth. Thereby he is always ahead and makes and maintains difference.

Leader is a man of much talent. Talent cannot and can never be suppressed. It is just like sun behind the cloud. As the cloud disappears the sun appears with its immense presence.

Talent is quite informal. A talented person may not have any formal education. It does not require any guidance. A duckling can swim. But a human babe has to acquire it. But that acquired expertise seldom can reach the talent of an animal that gets it by birth. The difference is just like natural and artificial products.

Talent is gifted rather than acquired. A person gets it by birth. Good environment sharpens it. It is quite spontaneous natural phenomenon like a spring that comes out from the hill. It is not the dam that diverts the flow of a river artificially. Practise makes a man perfect. Through practise perfection is attained. This attainment is the manifestation of perfection already in man. Again all cannot be perfect except a leader.

Leader can be distinguished for having his innovative capacity. He can tackle any situation instant. His availability is constant. Only a true leader can hold leadership for long. He does not retire like a civil servant. But he is not greedy. He always responds round the clock. He fights till he possesses the last drop of blood. A true leader is a patriot. A patriot sacrifices life for noble cause. But a fake leader pretends to be selfless.

He is flawless. He runs for his own interest only. He moves if he likes, he moves not if he likes not. He moves only when his personal interest is considered.

On the other hand the success of an expert depends on his experience. Practice makes a man perfect. Both a doctor and a lawyer practise. They earn through practice. But they are not perfect. They earn through imperfect knowledge. For this imperfection many patients die and many clients are defeated. This perfection is like unattainable ideal. But all leaders are expert but all experts may not be leader.

Now the question arises who is an expert? They say an expert is one who complicates simple things. Another school of thought contends that an expert is one who simplifies complex things. The former is ill-famed as complex expert and the latter is laurelled as a simple expert one. The complex expert enjoys sadistic pleasure rendering or polluting a simple matter complex. But the leader is free from such allegation. He is noted for his pleasing personality. Everybody loves and honors him. Thus he is always positive and worshipper of optimism as well.

A happy person cannot be a leader. Unhappy family life paves the way to be a successful leader. History is its witness. A happy man is self-centered. He thinks and does only for his family. He is like a frog of the well. On the other hand an unhappy person cannot, does not and even is not allowed to do any welfare for his own family. His family farewells him for no cause. Then the whole world is his family. Thus circumstance compels a leader to become a patriot. This is the equation of sincerity. This is the mystery of faithfulness.

Good husband adds a feather in the vanity of wife. Great husband has to live with his mad wife. In fact madness of wife renders a man good to great. Thus greatness pushes a man from his bedroom to the outer world. He losses his own family but acquires all families and thereby the whole world instead. And here lies the uniqueness of greatness.

Very few people are lucky to achieve it. But common people are afraid of such luckiness.

CONCLUSIONS

A successful religious or political leader, having mad wife, acquires greatness and thereby experiences unhappy family life. They sacrifice their lives to make all happy welcoming unhappy personal life. A couple who are made for each other or mad for each other can never prosper either in religion or politics. A bride prefers good husband rather than a great one. She finds no greatness in achieving so called greatness. As such, a man must exercise his option between home or foreign affair i.e., either family life or religious or political life. However, in a patriarchal society, social whips compel a woman to live with a lunatic husband.
