

OF RECOGNITION

DIBAKAR PAL ¹

¹ PHD STUDENT IN INDIA.

ABSTRACT

Wife gets social recognition. Lover seldom gets it. Rather she is ignored. A lover has to exist with unbearable as well as unspeakable pain observing noble silence. Wife is just like the rose of a garden that grows with the tender touch of the affectionate gardener. A lover is just like a flower of an un-trodden hill of far-off land. No gardener looks after it. It experiences heat and hailstorm. Yet it rises high alone. Nature is its real mother. Thus it grows, blossoms and is withered away silently, unnoticed. Arrival and departure i.e. the chronicle of life of a lover remains unknown to the society. But the memories of the lost lover render an individual melancholy, indifferent and nostalgic as well.

KEYWORDS: RECOGNITION, IDENTIFY, REWARD, ACKNOWLEDGE.

INTRODUCTION

Creative writing is based more on manifestation rather than on expression. It does not inform rather reveals, so it bears no reference. The best creative writing is critical, and the best critical writing is creative. The present article is the outcome of creative writing meant for lay readers. As such free style is the methodology adopted so that pleasure of reading can be enjoyed by the common mass. As you know well that Francis Bacon (1561-1626), the immortal essayist, wrote many essays and notably, Of Love, Of Friendship, Of Ambition, Of Studies, etc. The myriad-minded genius rightly pointed out that all the words of the dictionary can be the themes of essays one can write. But little has been done, in this regard since his death, in order to finish his unfinished monumental works. In fact Bacon's way of presentation i.e., his unique style kindled the imagination already in me and encouraged me as well to write essays, in the light of creative writing, thus to get relief through Catharsis.

ARTICLE

Recognition is the alias of reward. It means acknowledgement. It has wide and diversified meaning. Recognition means to identify by some detail as of appearance. For example, to recognize a tree by its fruit, an elephant by its long trunk, etc.

An old man becomes excited when his friend of childhood, who is also old, recognizes him after a long gap. This recognition renders both the grey-haired souls nostalgic. They remember their naughty childhood full of daring events and adventures, ever enjoying sunrise in the dawn, idle noon fishing in the river, lost afternoon full of enjoyment, enchanting and unobstructed view of sunset in the horizon, etc. They embrace each other remarking that the earth is round and that's why they have met again. Thus recognition of a long-lost friend is always a pleasing event.

A doctor prescribes medicines thus recognizing the symptoms of disease. Here recognition is the determining factor of life and death. Lack of recognition of exact disease may cause premature death of a patient even. Thus, in medical science symptom has great significance. Medical science argues that fever itself is not a disease at all, rather it is the symptom of a disease. In fact practice thereby success of a doctor depends fully upon the right recognition of the concerned disease.

Recognition means to acknowledge the existence. A lover becomes happy when her existence is cared for. She becomes happy when her voice is recognized by her lover.

Child cries to draw attention of its mother. Generally, a man wants attention. If he does not get, he tries to draw attention. In fact through attention and thereby attraction he warms up his ego. Thus he may spend much money or time just to serve and satisfy his egoistic attitude.

Validity of any document offers pleasure. Similarly, when one's authority is acknowledged the ruler becomes proud. Through recognition of genuineness of any legitimate claim both the donor and receiver respect each other. In fact in a debate logical argument of the opponent is enjoyable more even than the idiotic excuse of the friend.

Recognition means to accept as fact, to admit anything or accept anything with consent.

A judicious person recognizes a defeat. But, he who can recognize both win and defeat is a wise man.

To recognize devotion is to acknowledge as worthy of appreciation or approval. A man gets inspiration when his contribution is recognized. A student if gets recognition tries for better result. Real devotee seldom thinks for recognition. A true patriot sacrifices his life for the welfare of his motherland. But he never thinks for return or recognition. Many men donate beating the drum. Also there are people who donate silently and be ashamed when they are recognized as selfless donor. They think to help others is their sacred duty.

It is a virtue. But it becomes valueless when they preach it and they be victim of vice being recognized.

A country by some formal action, as by entering into diplomatic relations, acknowledges the independence and sovereignty or legal standing of a newly created nation, a government, state, etc as by secession or as by revolution. Thus in international relation recognition plays a vital role for political gain through protocol. Diplomatic etiquette becomes lively and successful only when a diplomat acquires foresight through recognition.

Recognition allows one person to show acquaintance by greeting. Unrecognized person can't be greeted. Greeting allows the lovers to be intimate.

Recognition offers the right to speak. For example, in a meeting only the members are allowed to speak. The non-members can't interfere until or unless the house acknowledges the third party through recognition.

It is alleged that authority does not offer due recognition in due time. One can claim appreciation or honor in recognition of one's service. But it is painful that a man does not get recognition during his life span. It seems recognition is too slow to reach in life but sometimes it reaches after death. Perhaps recognition is interested more in posthumous award or it believes in rebirth or both.

Wife gets social recognition. Lover seldom gets it. Rather she is ignored. A lover has to exist with unbearable as well as unspeakable pain observing noble silence. Wife is just like the rose of a garden that grows with the tender touch of the affectionate gardener. A lover is just like a flower of an un-trodden hill of far-off land. No gardener looks after it.

It experiences heat and hailstorm. Yet it rises high alone. Nature is its real mother. Thus it grows, blossoms and is withered away silently, unnoticed. Arrival and departure i.e. the chronicle of life of a lover remains unknown to the society. But the memories of the lost lover render an individual melancholy, indifferent and nostalgic as well.

CONCLUSIONS

Recognition is good only when it favors. It is bad when it goes against the interest of the concerned person. For example, it is dangerous when a police or an investigator recognizes a criminal and arrest for conviction. Non-recognition renders one frustrated and lunatic as well.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Pal, Dibakar is a Retired Executive Magistrate in India and PhD Student. Though he is a Civil Servant yet he is genuinely interested in diversified academic fields. As such, he holds master degrees in M.Sc(Math), M.A(English), M.A(Bengali), M.B.A(HRD), M.C.A, P.G.D.M.M(Marketing), L.L.B, D.C.E(Creative Writing), M. Phil (Business Management),UGC- NET(Management)-2008. He attended an International Conference at IIT, Mumbai, India and five International Conferences at U.S.A; though he gets invitation to present papers in many International Conferences at home and abroad round the year. He presents papers on Computer Science, Management, English Literature, Linguistic, Philosophy, Philology, Psychology, Sociology, Humanities and Poems. He presented a paper on Computer Science and Chaired in 2007 IEEE Conference at Richmond, Virginia, U.S.A. Also another paper on Fuzzy Logic was accepted by IEEE Conference 2010 at USA. He serves as Session Chair, Presider and Reviewer. He serves as reviewer of American Marketing Association, Journal of Common Ground; Australia, IEEE Transactions, IJEAPS, AJHC, Journal of Supercomputing.

He has more than two hundred twenty (220) publications and among these one is as Monograph in International Journal on Management Science, one Monograph is in Journal of the World Universities Forum, one is in Consumer Behavior, two are in Computer Science, one is in Neuroscience, one is in Linguistic and rests are Creative Writing of English Literature. In Creative Writing two papers have been incorporated in SSRN's Top Ten Download List three times in November, December 2010 and April 2011. In ResearchGate his papers have reached a milestone through more than 130000 reads. Scholars' Press and Lambert Academic Publishing House, Germany have published twelve books between the months July to December, 2016. New Texas, A Journal of Literature and Culture, Sul Ross State University, Alpine, Texas, USA has published ten essays in February 2018. International Educational Scientific Research Journal (E-ISSN : 2455-295X) and Research Chronicle & Research Innovator (ISSN: 2347-503X; 2348-7674) publish Creative Nonfictions every month regularly. Now he is pursuing his PhD thesis in Business Management in University of Calcutta, India. Also he is currently focussed on the Extension Works of Huffman Code i.e., Coding Theory and Pattern Recognition through Fuzzy Logic (Pattern Recognition, Image Processing, etc) of Computer Science.

His hobby is Creative Writing (Nonfiction). He says:

Creative writing is based more on manifestation rather than on expression. It does not inform rather it reveals, so it bears no reference. The best creative writing is critical, and the best critical writing is creative. As you know well that, Francis Bacon (1561-1626), the immortal writer, wrote many essays, and notably "Of Love", "Of Friendship", "Of Ambition", "Of Studies", etc. The myriad-minded genius rightly pointed out that all the words of the dictionary can be the themes of essays one can write. But little has been done, in this regard since his death, in order to finish his unfinished monumental works. In fact Bacon's way of presentation and his unique style kindled imagination and inspired me to write essays, in the light of creative writing, thus to get relief through Catharsis.

REFERENCES

No reference, since the present article is an outcome of Creative Writing.